1. This lawsuit arises out of (Ceo) Jose E. Almeida, And (president) - Bryan. Hanson, Manufactured a defectived design of a Hernia mesh patch product "parietex", personal injury product libility and negligence, The defendants manufacturer failed to use then- Existing Standard of Care in designing or manufacturing a product, A defectived design of a Hernia Mesh patch product the defendants deviated from the standard of care that other manufacturers in the industry followed at the time the product was designed the defendants knew or should have known the exercise of ordinary care that the product was unreasonably dangerous and defendants failed to warn of its dangerous propensity.
2. I Vibron Lloyd, was shot in the abdomen years ago five (5) times I was then taken to Loyola university medical center in maywood, IL to be treated for my then gun shot wounds, Shortely after I had to go back to Loyola medical center for a follow up corrective surgery on my abdomini,
And at that time the "parietex" defective Hernia mesh patch was surgically implanted in my abdominal adjacent to the bowel. I did not discover the injury until later, It is afacting my every day of "life i've been having - problems every since the corrective surgery of the "parietex" defective implant of the Hernia mesh patch, I have physical pain every day, Emotional distress, And psychological damage, personal humiliation, And Mental anguish injury to the quality of my "life", I'm sick all the time I was hospitalized a lot after the corrective surgery, I have shortness of breath, I have nausea all the time, I'm in distress a lot of the time, I vomit a lot some times, I can't hold food down, I never have a full bowel movement, my abdominal is always bloated with gas, I have a bowel obstruction in my small loops of my bowel due to the "parietex" defectived design of the Hernia mesh patch product, I was hospitalized in April of 2020, At Graham Hospital in Canton, IL for a bowel obstruction and vomiting and nausea because of the mesh patch, I did not have a bowel movement for seven (7) days I thought I was going to "die", The X-Ray showed bowel obstruction in the abdominal of the small bowel loops were the "parietex" mesh patch is implanted adjacent to the bowel, Gas in the colon and rectum no free air, The nurses place and (NG) tube for gastric decompression of the bowel And the nurses perform daily abdominal exams, my doctor Kenneth R. Krock wanted to do a corrective surgery on me I was "scorn" and did not have the surgery I was in the (ICU) Intensive care unit for seven (7) days fighting for my life I have to wear an abdominal binder every day around my waist or torso. I take Stew Softners every day and docusate Sod/100 MG Cap, And FiberLax-

Cap TABS So I can't eat and have a okay bowel movement, I need to have corrective surgery to have the "parietex" mesh removed, my medical records, And mental Health records will prove my case, I had to learn about the product "parietex" defective design of the manufacturers. See Exhibit one (1) photo of abdomen where the mesh patch is implanted in patient Vikron Lloyd.

3. ABOUT THE DEFECTIVE DESIGN:

Covidien Medical Corporation, Are unique from other hernia repair products and that they present unique risk to patients the devices consist of a layer of mesh that is coated on both sides with an impermeable film or coating, The coating were designed to be implanted adjacent to the bowel, which it self presents specific risk to the patient, The manufacturers of these devices claim that the addition of the coating on the mesh is to prevent adhesion to the bowel, This addition also allowed the manufacturers to charge more money for their products, The coating added no benefit and only increased the risk to patients including the possibility of an inadequate repair which can lead to other injuries such as adhesions, Infections, Hernia recurrence, Bowel obstruction, Sepsis and even death, The manufacturer Covidien terminated Clinical Studies before completion due to safety issues, The device was recently voluntarily withdrawn from the market due to high complication rates.
